

I am writing to ask you to please leave our ISP's alone and the internet. I happen to like things the way they are now and I have a really good ISP. Phone companies need to have some competetion and certainly not the way the long distance came about. That was the worse thing you could have done. Leave our ISP's alone and let us keep them and small bussinesses going!!